What is Peace Boat?

Peace Boat is a Japan-based international non-governmental and non-profit organization that works to promote peace, human rights, equal and sustainable development and respect for the environment. Peace Boat carries out its main activities through a chartered passenger ship that travels the world on global voyages. The ship circumnavigates the globe over 80 + days each voyage and typically travels to 18 - 23 ports.

Peace Boat works constantly to expand its global educational network, which includes partnerships with universities such as Seisen University (Japan), Wako University (Japan), Sungkonghoe University (Korea), Ohio University (USA) and Tubingen University (Germany). Guest educators from universities such as Tokyo University, Kyoto University, Aichi University and The Open University of Japan frequently join the voyages to lecture on their specialist subjects. Peace Boat holds Special Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations.

About Peace Boat's language programme, GET Universal

Peace Boat's on board language programme, GET Universal, was established in 2001 and has seen over 4,000 students pass successfully through its doors. GET provides intensive, communication focused language courses for people seeking to improve their language skills on board Peace Boat voyages. Peace Boat, a floating Japanese village, is an ideal environment for students seeking an intensive, total immersion Japanese language study programme. With Japanese cabin-mates, Japanese food, Japanese cultural events, workshops and seminars, students receive the full Japanese language and cultural exchange experience.

4 Pillars – The four elements of the GET Language Study Programme

LEARN – USE – LEARN – USE:
 GET works hard to ensure students have plenty of opportunities to use new language through daily workshops, events and study support programmes.

ANYWHERE, ANYTIME, with ANYONE:
 Living on a boat with 700+ Japanese provides unlimited opportunities to practice and use new language learned in real-life situations.

TAILORED CURRICULUM:
 To ensure each student can make the most of their studies, each individual student's needs and goals are assessed and accounted for when our teachers are designing curricula.

CULTURAL AWARENESS:
 Peace Boat is just as diverse as Japan itself and provides students with a variety of contexts to learn to use both formal and informal Japanese in culturally appropriate ways.

Peace Boat Global Voyages

Peace Boat charters a large passenger ship, The Oceanic, to carry out its voyages; however, Peace Boat does not carry "passengers" in the traditional sense. Everyone on board is an active "participant" in the Peace Boat project and has the opportunity to contribute to programmes on board and in port. There could be as many as 80 events per day. With Peace Boat, participants can...

• EXPERIENCE IMMERSION IN JAPANESE CULTURE:

A floating Japanese village, Peace Boat provides not only total immersion in the Japanese language but also unique and diverse opportunities every day to experience the richness of Japanese culture.

• PARTICIPATE IN EDUCATION PROGRAMMES ON BOARD:

Peace Boat is a neutral space for communicating, learning and cooperating across borders and boundaries. All participants are encouraged to take part in the onboard educational programmes, and have the opportunity to interact closely with the guest educators.

• JOIN STUDY AND EXPOSURE PROGRAMMES IN PORTS:

Learn about the local reality of global issues, trends in development and the great efforts of NGOs and community groups around the world, while visiting people and places that might otherwise be difficult to access.

PAST AWARD RECIPIENTS

Kayuk Wong (Hong Kong - 68th voyage)

My highlight of the voyage was to meet diverse people onboard. I joined many events including lectures, workshops, parties, performance, Taiko practice, sports events, Spanish Open lesson, and they are very fun, enjoyable, and informative. These experience was all based on communication in Japanese. I also learnt and experienced more and new things about Japanese culture and people that cannot be learnt from a textbook. Peace Boat is a very good environment to study Japanese, and my Japanese have improved a lot in just one month. It indeed was an amazing trip.

Sandra Degabriele (Australia – 68th voyage)

I am overwhelmed with the amount of satisfaction I have taken from Peace Boat in the space of a few months. I was in the most incredible environment, speaking Japanese all the time and I improved my language skills so much. I participated in Japanese classes and workshops and was able to put those skills into practice right away. Anything from simply having lunch with Japanese people to planning my own events and presenting them in Japanese became a means of study for me. I will happily take these skills back to Australia.
